

FireEye Named a Leader in External Threat Intelligence by Leading Independent Research Firm

March 23, 2021

FireEye ranks highest in strategy and current offering categories; earning highest possible scores of “5” across 18 criteria

MILPITAS, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 23, 2021-- FireEye, Inc. (NASDAQ: FEYE), the intelligence-led security company, today announced that it was named a leader in the Forrester Research, Inc. report: “The Forrester Wave™: External Threat Intelligence Services Q1, 2021.”

The Forrester report finds that “FireEye-Mandiant’s strength in threat intelligence is in large part due to the reputation and visibility provided via the company’s robust incident response consultancy, security controls business, and managed security services. The visibility gained from those supporting services is ahead of the pack.”

“When it comes to intelligence there is no substitute for quality,” said Sandra Joyce, Executive Vice President and head of Mandiant Threat Intelligence. “Organizations need every advantage available to protect their people, critical systems, and data from constantly evolving criminal and state actors. This starts with understanding adversaries and threats targeting their infrastructure and designing a security program to match their capabilities. Every day we are on the front lines, hunting adversaries to deliver the intelligence and insights organizations need to better defend themselves.”

The report notes, “Customer references expressed high satisfaction with the new Mandiant Advantage portal. Their vulnerability intelligence subscription sets the bar for the category. The vendor also maintains one of the few cyber/physical threat intelligence capabilities. Security buyers in North America, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia with operational technology environments and state-nexus threat concerns should strongly consider FireEye for their external threat intelligence service.”
